Dear Priory School Pupils

I am writing to you following our recent Ofsted inspection to let you know how proud I am to lead such a wonderful school. Thank you for your help during the inspection and for representing the school so well.

We have been graded as being a good school, which Ofsted define as:

“A good school is effective in delivering outcomes that provide well for all pupils’ needs. Pupils are well prepared for the next stage of their education, training or employment.”

This is a good reflection of our school and one that you and the staff can rightly be proud of.

Inspectors have found that “teaching at The Priory School is consistently good and as a result pupils achieve well from their different starting points.” “Relationships between adults and pupils are warm and respectful.” “Teachers have high expectations of what pupils can achieve and pupils have confidence to ask for help.” Inspectors looked at progress results and they saw that pupils were making good progress.

“The school’s work to keep pupils safe and secure is good.” Inspectors also observed that behaviour in school was good and you told them that you would know who to talk to in case of bullying.

Thank you for showing enthusiasm, behaving well and working hard.

Our motto is “Aspiring to Greatness” and we are now all going to continue to work hard and do our very best so that our school goes from strength to strength. Teachers will continue to have high expectations, asking challenging questions and encouraging you to be independent learners. You in turn can help by aiming high and taking full advantage of opportunities to extend your knowledge and skills.

With every good wishes.

Miss King
